WHY RE MMOHO COMPLIANCE SOLUTION

Highest International Quality Standards

Borne out of Better Work – a six-year programme jointly led by the UN’s International Labour Organization and the World Bank Group’s International Finance Corporation – our team is trained to the highest, international standards and equipped with the tools and know-how to help you improve compliance performance while growing your business.

Unique industry connections

Thanks both to our ILO/ World Bank Group heritage and our team’s previous work in the industry, we are uniquely well-connected with key employer, union and government stakeholders, as well as international partners like the US Department of Labour and global brands sourcing in Lesotho. We specialise in bringing diverse stakeholders together to find solutions – hence our name!

Past experience

In their past experience, the Remmoho Compliance Solution Team produced reports that were highly regarded and accepted by the following buyer/ supplier organizations and international institutions:

An approach founded on rigorous research

We value measuring your business’s improvements in working conditions and competitiveness using both academic and practical methodologies. Our team has authored dozens of reports on labour standards compliance and presented findings around the world.

A dedicated team of professionals

With more than four decades of combined experience in labour inspection, quality assurance, human rights law and training, our dedicated team includes five Business Compliance Advisors, Administration and Finance professionals as well as a number of expert consultants brought on board for specific needs. We are experienced working with the continent’s largest factories, including those exporting to international markets, and with delivering services to some of the best-known global brands.

REMMOHO COMPLIANCE SOLUTIONS, for all your compliance, training and advisory needs. We are your partner all the way

OUR SERVICES

We currently offer the following services:

1. Tailored training and advisory support.

Our team of professionals offers engaging, interactive trainings and tailored advisory services on a wide variety of topics in Sesotho, English and Mandarin. We cater to the different levels of your company staff. Topics we cover range from OSH management systems, industrial relations, HR to productivity and many others.

2. Social Compliance Audits.

These audits help you to measure your company's compliance performance based on local labour laws and ILO International Standards, but can be adapted to company- or buyer-specific standards as needed.

3. Advisory

- Assist you in improving performance on workplace issues – Workplace cooperation = Happy People
- Promote social dialogue between managers and workers.

4. OHSE Legal Register

An effective HSE management system requires that you have in place the processes and procedures required to meet the legal requirements of the jurisdiction in which you operate business. The legal regulatory framework constantly evolves and therefore having a "Legal Register" helps to regularly review and update such laws. Re Mmoho Compliance Solution gives you a fully operational HSE Legal Register, which is suitable for your needs.

5. Pre Audit Assessments

We also assist enterprises to conduct their own self assessments in preparation for third party audits to ensure that they are still on track in meeting their set objectives and implementing their systems in an effective manner and assist to identify gaps and advise on corrective actions.

6. OSHE system files

Re Mmoho Compliance Solutions will assist in compilation of safety, health, environment and quality policies and procedures.

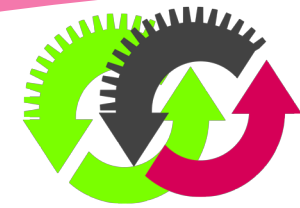

7. Risk assessments

We at Re Mmoho Compliance Solutions will help your enterprise to conduct baseline risk assessment to assist in making your working environment as safe as possible by determining your current status of occupational safety and health risks associated with your operations.

OUR ESSENCE
